

The Golden Rule

Don't judge me on what you see

Take a look at your own heart

Look at your own heart

Just think twice before you criticise

Take a look at your own heart

Look at your own heart now

Try to see where we're the same

It's not about playing a game

Where everyone passes the blame

Hey now

Remember love's the golden rule we're living by

Don't ever let your heart be fooled

And always try to be caring, to be kind

When it's easy to be cruel

Remember love is the golden rule

Don't look down 'til you turn around

Take a look at your own heart

Look at your own heart

Don't be sure of your ground before

You take a look at your own heart

Look at your own heart now

To be sure that you never forget

The judgement you give you will get

And nobody

Hey now

Remember love's the golden rule we're living by

Don't ever let your heart be fooled

And always try to be caring, to be kind

When it's easy to be cruel

Remember love is the golden rule

Remember love is the golden rule

How now

Remember love is

Hey now

Remember love it

Hey now

Remember love is the golden rule
